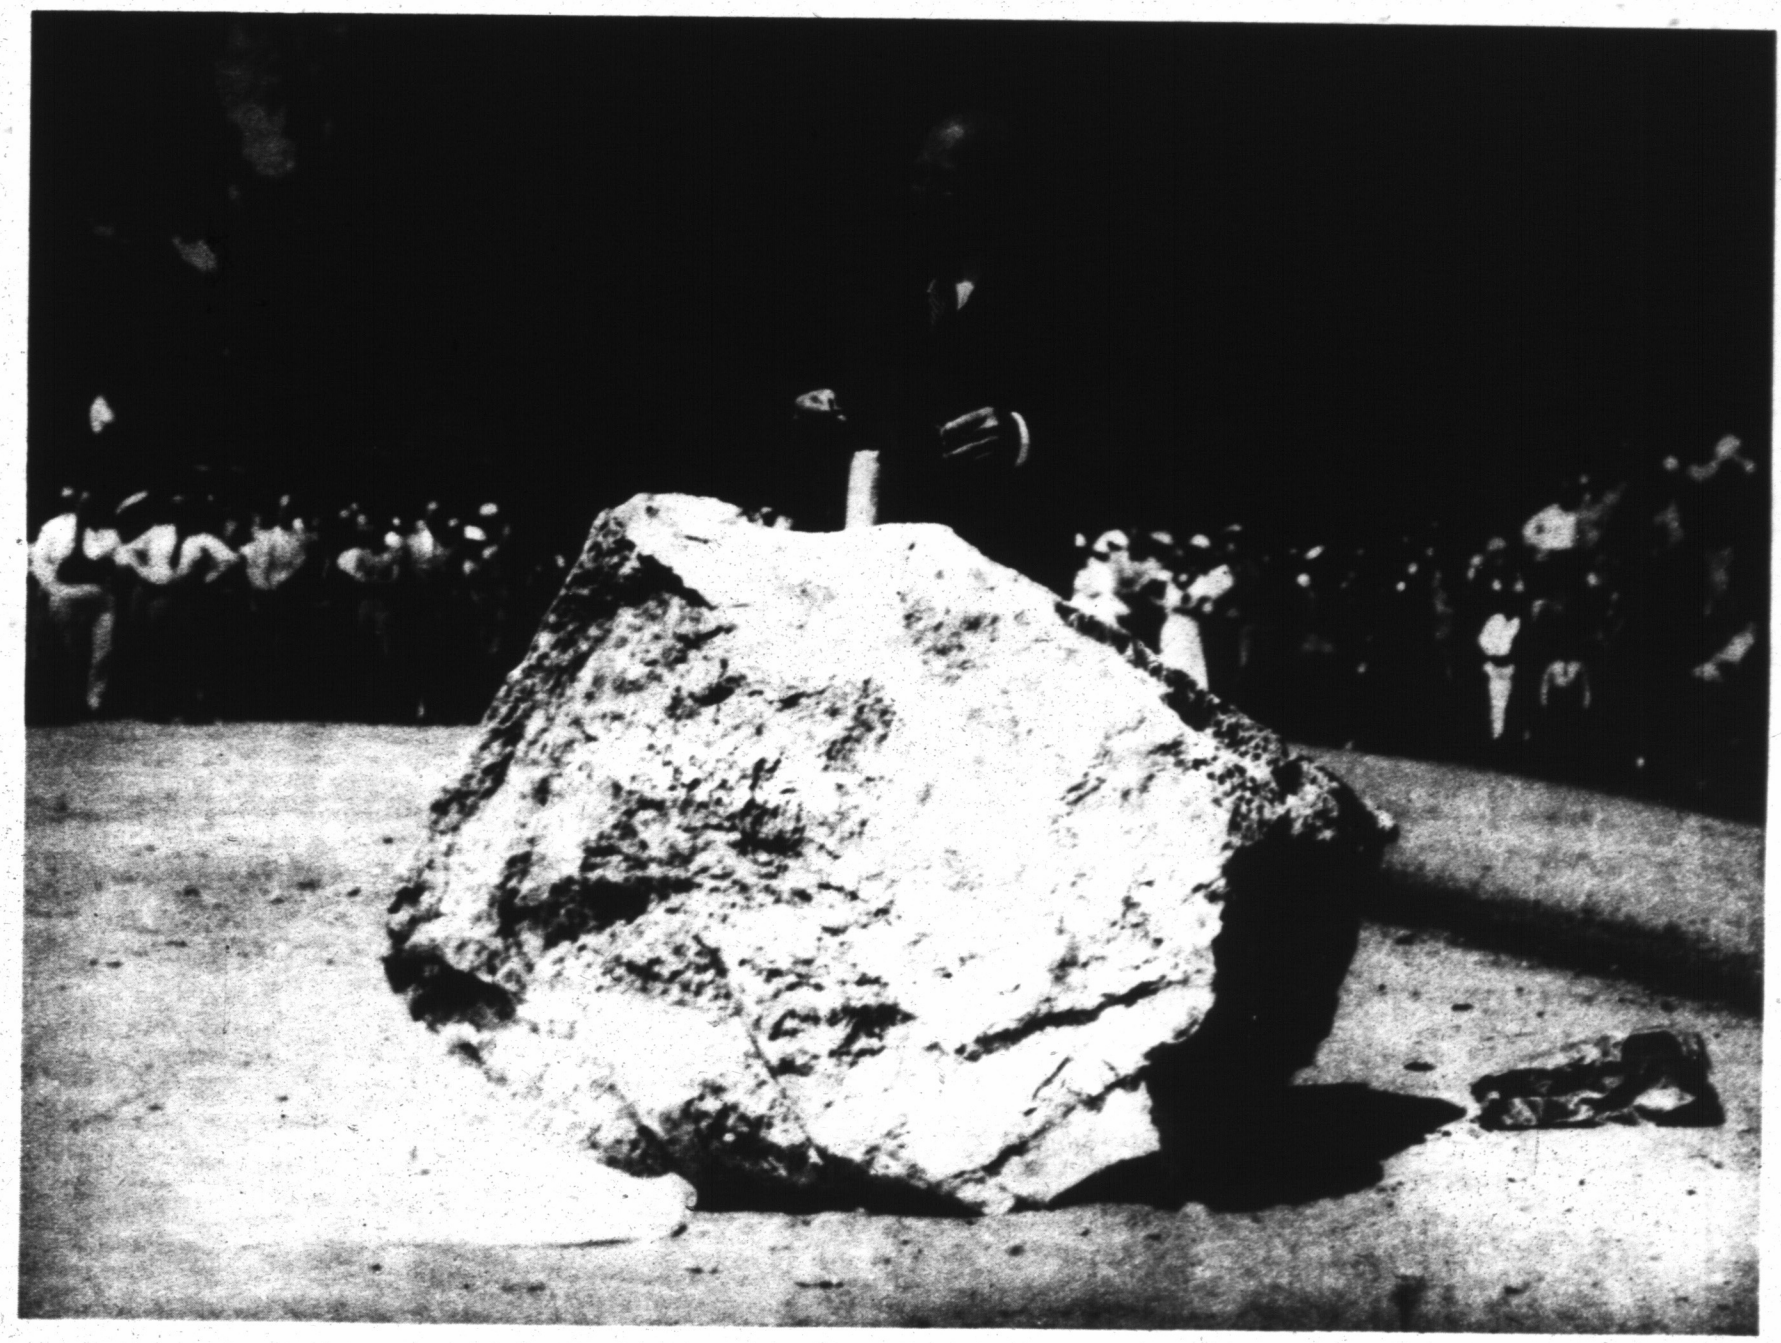
NEW SCENIC WONDERLAND OPENED TO PUBLIC



Governor Frank F. Merriam touched off the fuse which blasted away the last barrier and officially opened the Coast highway Sunday afternoon. The ceremony was held at the Big Sur state park and was attended by many state and county officials. A colorful pageant depicting the early history of this wild country preceded the opening of the road.

Governor Opens Coast Road; Two Soldiers Killed In Crash

The Roosevelt highway, which Republicans will insist upon calling the Carmel-San Simeon road, is open. Trained seals and trained politicians played the important roles in the ceremonies which opened it Sunday afternoon.

It was christened with blood shortly before Governor Merriam blasted a boulder to open it. Two soldiers from the Presidio of Monterey, riding a motorcycle, ran into loose gravel on a curve, skidded into a guard rail and were hurled out into space and death.

The official program was held at the Big Sur Lodge and was attended by hundreds of motorists who converged upon the spot from the north and south. The Governor, escorted by a convoy of armoured cars from the Presidio, headed the procession of cars from the south into the Big Sur. The vulgar public was barred from the lobby of the lodge for about 45 minutes while official hands were being shaken in private and official tonsils irrigated with Scotch and soda.

Then followed a pageant in a flat near the lodge. Father Neptune and a trained seal entered the arena to survey a domain which was once their own. Then came the Indians, Cabrillo, Viscaino, Portola, Father Serra and many other pioneers who knew this wild country long before America's most scenic highway was dreamed of. They were followed (in person) by Dr. John L. D. Roberts, who conceived the idea of the road; Lester Gibson, assistant state engineer who built it; Earl Lee Kelly, director of public works; Senator Edward Tickle and Governor Merriam.

A pre-blasted boulder, which had been reassembled with the aid of plaster of paris, was to have been blasted by the governor to open the road but it was tough plaster of paris and the black powder blast turned out to be nothing more than a fizzle with a lot of smoke. Earl Lee Kelly came to the rescue with a highway department tractor and bulldogged the rock off the road.

Following the ceremony, the visitors entered the Pfeiffer State Park for a barbecue. The steaks, beans, salads and coffee were consumed to the accompaniment of speeches by politicians and celebrities who were assembled for the event but who could not find a part in the pageant.

The only tragedy of the day was provided by Malcolm Weldon, troop A, 11th Cavalry, and Walter Kaiser, of the 11th Cavalry band, when their motorcycle skidded and sent them into eternity.

State park officials at the Big Sur estimated last night that more than 5000 cars had passed over the highway since it was opened but no other accidents had been reported.

GOLF PRO DIES

The Monterey Peninsula was saddened last week by news of the death of Eliot Callender, who was one of the best-liked sportsmen around here. Mr. Callender has been the golf professional at the Monterey Peninsula Country club for the past 11 years. His specialty was working with young golfers, and he was a noted amateur before he came to the Peninsula country club. Mr. Callender was born in Peoria, Illinois, had been in California for 27 years, and on the peninsula since 1926.

He leaves two daughters, Mary, who is now with Menlo tennis clubs, and Clara, who won the state women's golf title in San Francisco in April. Besides his daughters he leaves his wife, Mrs. Mary Lucile Callender, and a brother, Joseph E. Callender, residing in Chicago.

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in Paul's mortuary chapel, after which the body was taken to Santa Cruz for cremation.

Mr nd Mrs. William Blackie were in San Francisco last week. Mrs. Blackie went up to say goodbye to her sister, Mary Elizabeth Bucker, who sailed Wednesday for a trip to the Orient.

PREPARE FOR FOURTH

Sue Brownell and Ace Sykes are ardent boosters for the Fourth of July barbecue at the Mission Ranch Club, but as firecrackers are illegal in Carmel they had to use gopher bombs in practicing for the festivities.

TO CELEBRATE "FOURTH"

The American Legion Club and the Mission Ranch Club are joining forces in an effort to give Carmel its most glorious Fourth of July celebration next Sunday.

The affair is to be staged upon the home grounds of the Mission Ranch Club. It is to be featured by an "artistic" barbecue, whatever that is. According to Corum Jackson, who knows less about more things than any member of either club, it is to be artistic because the juicy baby-beef steaks are to be cooked by Carmel artists. A number of the artists got together and worked out a special sauce which will be applied to the steaks as they are cooking over the slow coals.

After partaking of the food, if you are able to play, there will be just about all you can ask in the way of entertainment. The committee in charge has arranged horse racing, tennis tournaments, badminton, baseball, dancing, track and field events, bingo, win-a-duck, country store and even "galloping" dominoes," if you can find a partner.

By Ford, who is Jackson's partner in crime in arranging the program, asserted that he had the "artistic" sauce analyzed by a competent chemist and that it contained no water colors. He is willing to bet a lot in the Mission Tract against one in Hatton Fields that no one partaking of the "artistic" baby-beef will depart suffering from painter's colic.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee E. Gottfried are back in their own home on 13th and Dolores after two years. The John Douglas Shorts who had the house have moved to Woodside for the summer.

ACTRESS HERE

Miss Barbara O'Neill, stage and screen actress, is in Carmel for a two weeks' vacation. A granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. George Blackman, who for years took a leading part in Carmel's artistic anhd intellectual life, began her stage career with the theatrical groups here. The year Hamlet was given at the Forest Theater the O'Neill family were visiting here from St. Louis and all the members took a lively interest in the production, even the very youthful Barbara.

Miss O'Neill thinks that television is much nearer than we realize, as it all depends on when the large manufacturing companies are ready to release small sets, reasonable enough in price for the average family to purchase. And a most interesting thought to juggle with is just what effect television will have on the radio and cinema.

NEW RAIN RECORD

An all time high for rainfall was recorded here during our last rain, bringing the total for the year, July 1 to July 1, up to 28.63. Dr. MacDougal said that previous to 1910 such a record might have been reached, but the highest mark recorded by the Carnegie Coastal Laboratory since then was slightly less than 26 inches.

Miss Helen Burnett of Los Altos, a former Carmelite, is visiting her aunt ,Mrs. T. F. Riley at her home at Point Lobos.

SCENE OF ACCIDENT

Down in a canyon and the darkness which defied our cameraman to get an action picture is a badly mangled yeast company's truck but there was enough light for the lens to show a few of the spectators who were watching the firemen extract the driver and a passenger from the wreckage. The accident happened at Monte Verde and Fourth late Thursday afternoon. After Dr. John R. Gray had repaired his features with numerous stitches and a lot of adhesive tape, the driver, Ray Bierman, of Monterey, was arrested on a charge of driving a car while under the influence of liquor.

POT ROAST —

3 lbs. beef—chuck or rump	1½ tablespoons fat
2 tablespoons flour	1 onion
½ teaspoon salt	2 cloves
¼ teaspoon pepper	1 pint water

Mix flour with seasoning and dredge meat. Put meat in the melted fat—use heavy pan—and brown thoroughly on all sides. Add boiling water, onion and cloves. Cover and allow to simmer about three hours or until meat is tender. One cup of tomatoes may be used to replace one cup of water. One half hour before meat is finished potatoes may be added to cook in the gravy.

People In Bondage

Today, we see the world in tumult. Forces are in foment, which, if unchecked and unchallenged, threatens the extinction of our civilization.

In a broad sense, this condition has always existed. Periods have occurred, when events and circumstances, arrested the trend of disintegration and destruction. Sometimes it has been War which averted the impending tragedy. Plagues, famine and floods have served to check the impulse to prey, plunder and despoil. Discoveries of new lands, new riches and new adventures have distracted the human race from what seems to be an inherent and insatiable instinct, greed for power and pillage.

It is not a comforting thought, but none the less a true one, that man is the most predatory, cruel and selfish of all the animal kingdom. The Man and the Wolf have much in common. Both survive by craft, cunning and capture. Both work in pack. Singly, both are timid, ineffectual and helpless. The Wolf, however, in pack live in harmony togther, they do not prey upon one another.

Man, alone, of all the animal kingdom seems endowed with a natural instinct to exploit, deceive and to enslave his fellow beings.

Slavery, in some form or another, is as old as the human race itself. What is Slavery? One definition is: involuntary servitude. This we know is not a complete definition. Voluntary servitude has always existed and in every essential is as abject, servile subtion and condition of bondage as if it were involuntary.

When a Human Being surrenders his mental, moral, physical or spiritual freedom to another he voluntarily enters a state of servitude, slavery.

Demagogues and Agitators by appealing to prejudice, exaggerations and misrepresentations arouse in Man a frenzy of alarm, hatred, revenge and cruelty.

Man surrenders his mental independence and becomes enslaved. The Demagogue has placed him in bondage. He ceases to listen to his own intelligence and conscience and blindly believes in and follows the direction and dictates of a Master. This is the most extensive form of Slavery in existence, the most demoralizing, destructive and degrading. It lays the foundation, prepares the way and creates the opportunity for the other forms. It is a form of Slavery that is insidious, subtle, disguised under the mask of Politics, Religion or Cults. The most vicious of all is the Political Bondage. It is the source and incubator of every other condition of Servitude.

As Politics, or what we call Government, becomes corrupt, insincere, selfish and adopts methods and means which engender Class Hatred, promote factions, countenance expediencies premised upon personal and partisan vantage, it immediately stimulates the germination of every vice and malignant motives of Man. It is like the Home, corrupt, sordid, debauched which can only produce in kind.

It is not any gross exaggeration to say that all the tumult, strife, injustice, misery and madness in the world today are Political in source and origin. Slavery, imposed by Demagogues, crafty, plausible and unscrupulous leaders.

Massacres, wholesale murders, violation of all human and property rights, occurring in this country and in the so-called civilized world today are but the inevitable harvest of Political degeneracy, the exploitation of the human race to the lust for power and supremacy.

We often hear and read the trite platitude that the "Last Frontier" has been conquered. An absurdity. The "Last Frontier" will never be conquered so long as a remnant of the human race survive. Man is the "Last Frontier." His exploitation, his servitude and slavery will go on forever.

So long as Man surrenders his inherent and inalienable rights to the specious sophistries of Demagogues, ceases to exercise the natural and normal dictates of his own conscience and intelligence, the "Last Frontier" will remain a fertile field of development. Human slavery will flourish.

So long as Man surrenders his inherent and inalienable Right to Labor and to earn a livelihood, becomes a liege, a voluntary vassal of another who assumes the right and privilege of extortion, exploitation and domination. Human Slavery continues. It matters not that certain benefits are promised and some are achieved, the very moment the individual ceases to be a free moral agent, becomes responsive and responsible to the will of another, a condition of Slavery is established.

Slavery, no matter the form, has one inherent characteristic. Humanity is standardized to the plane, tempo and norm of the least efficient. Genius, initiative and personality submerged and regulated by the capacity of the mediocre, moron and shirk.

It is a condition of Slavery, as old as the institution itself, that the subject, or slave, is subject to call for any and all service. He becomes a mercenary, with or against his will, he may be called to battle, to murder and destroy. Ties of blood and kin are obliterated. Brother fight against brother, mother against son. Neighbors live in hostile enmity. This condition obtains in America today. We read of it in the Press, see it flashed upon the screen. Slavery at its worst.

But all of this has not been said in arraignment of our race but in defense and extenuation. We must recognize the evil to appreciate the good. While we see and deplore the savagery, cruelty and perfidy of Man it does not mean that our race is wholly debased or lost. The evidence of Man's sublimity of character, charity, genius and integrity is everywhere about us.

Civilization and Culture have made magnificent progress. The world, today, is richer in opportunity for human happiness, contentment and comfort than ever before. The intelligence of Man has attained unprecedented heights. Humanity has a significance unknown to former generations. The future looms ahead rich in promise of greater triumphs but they will not come to us as gratuities or be attained by wistful wishing. Sacrifice, discipline and courage must be exercised. The wolf proclivities expunged from the human heart. The shackles must be broken from the spirit, body and brain of Man.

God give to this generation the spirit, courage and vision to purge itself of servitude, that neighbors may greet each other in friendly, cordial sincerity, and tranquility take the place of the present tumult.

FLASHLIGHTS

Looking through the post office window I thought—that just because Marie Short in a peasant dress looks like no peasant on earth except a musical comedy one doesn't mean that the rest of the world can get away with such attire—that Ray Burns adds color to any street—that Connie Bell has an elfin quality which is charming—that Louis Conlan has the nicest smile—that Corum Jackson talks more than any man in this town—that Virginia Scardigli is extremely handsome—that that's that.

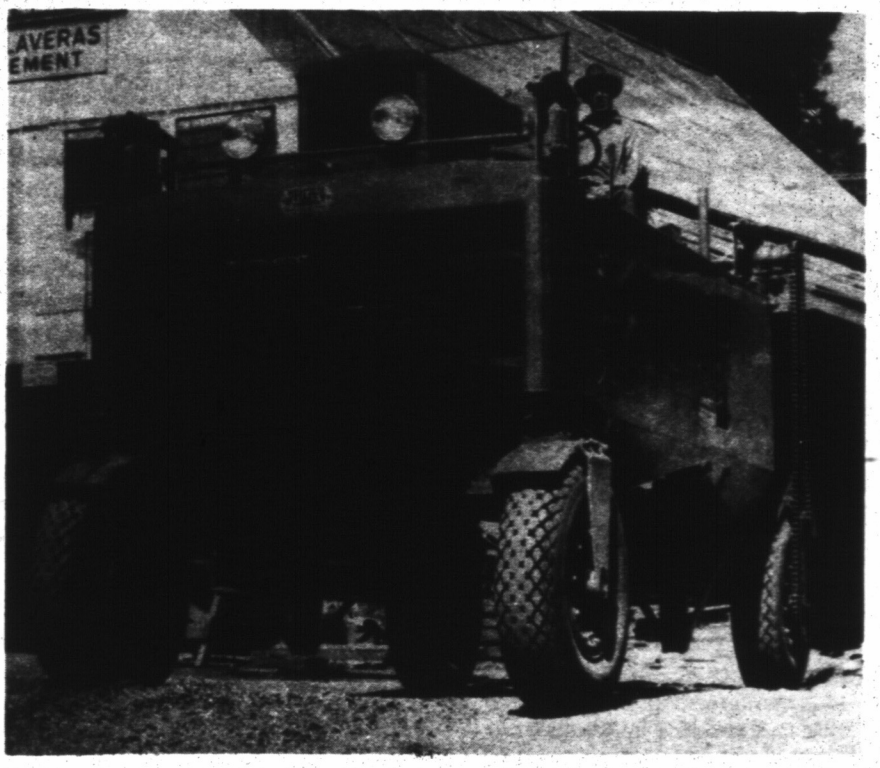
* * *

It's time to take notice when a crusader takes his own preaching so seriously that he acts upon it himself. Ray Burns wrote a letter demanding that something be done about the litter in the streets. Later we saw him putting his own backyard—in the front—in order. He didn't get a hair out of place, or a spot on his hands, but still it was all very impressive.

VILLAIN IN ACTION

Assistant director of "Tatters," Connie Bell doesn't seem to be able to do any directing on arch villain Lloyd Weer, while he is in one of his most deadly and dangerous moods. "Tatters" will be repeated at the First Theater in Monterey July 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5. The cast remains practically the same, but the olio will have several new features besides the ones used before. If it was only half as good as it was during the first performance it would be worth seeing over again.

IT CAN'T BE DONE



YOU WON'T FIT

All of us have suffered from suppressed desires, but the one which seems to be outstanding among Carmelites is to drive their car under that goofy "spider" truck which M. J. Murphy operates between the wharf in Monterey and the lumber yard in Carmel.

When it looms up ahead of you on Carmel Hill (empty) there is that urge to drive through it and surprise the driver. However, we cornered the thing in Murphy's lumber yard last week, measured it and are convinced that even our modest and ancient flivver can't be driven under it.

The driver explained that everyone seems to have that same suppressed desire and he has to be on guard every moment when he is driving the "spider" empty. He has had countless motorcycles and bicycles scoot under him and is always afraid that some drunk he is meeting will attempt the same thing with a car.

The truck is designed to drive over a pile of lumber, hoist it up and go away with it without the usual formality of loading.

NEW COLOR PICTURE

Said to be the most beautiful example of Technicolor photography ever produced, "Wings of the Morning" 20th Century-Fox's latest achievement is now showing at the Filmarte.

The film introduces a rare and new personality in Annabella, capable continental actress, as well as the golden voice of John McCormack who sings a number of Irish folk-songs. Henry Fonda and Leslie Banks complete the cast.

The picture boasts such spectacular story backgrounds as the revolt in Spain, the colorful changing of the guard in front of Buckingham Palace, and the English Derby at Epsom Downs.

"Wings of the Morning" plays until Friday at the Filmarte.

Miss Valentine Porter, daughter of Mrs. Susan Mott Porter, arrived in Carmel this week-end to spend the summer with her mother. Miss Porter, who has just completed her third year at Radcliffe, was accompanied on her trip home by Miss Marjorie Weld, who will visit her aunt, Miss Lydia G. Weld of Carmel Point.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hasty, Mr. and Mrs. Cassius Dowell, and Bud Todd went to San Jose Friday night. Bud must have gotten lost in the shuffle because Will Claywell and Tommy Harbolt, who had been to San Francisco, picked him up as he was hitch-hiking back to Carmel sometime quite early Saturday morning.

PARTY A SUCCESS

A museum of white elephants could be started by the enterprising and public spirited youth of Carmel, who went on a foraging expedition Friday night. Among the valuable mementoes of the evening were goats, skulls, white cats, toupees, top-hats, and watermelons. The Palmer Beaudettes came back with the greatest number of listed articles, and the other guests who ended up the evening at Tommy Hooper's were: Libby Ley, Happy Whyte, Ace Sykes, Beverly and Joan Tait, Mary Wheldon, Jean Crossman, John von Salza, John Campbell, Tommy Warren, Dave Davis, Phil Nesbitt, Ray Burns, Baron von Schoeler, the George Macbeths, and the Richard Bares.

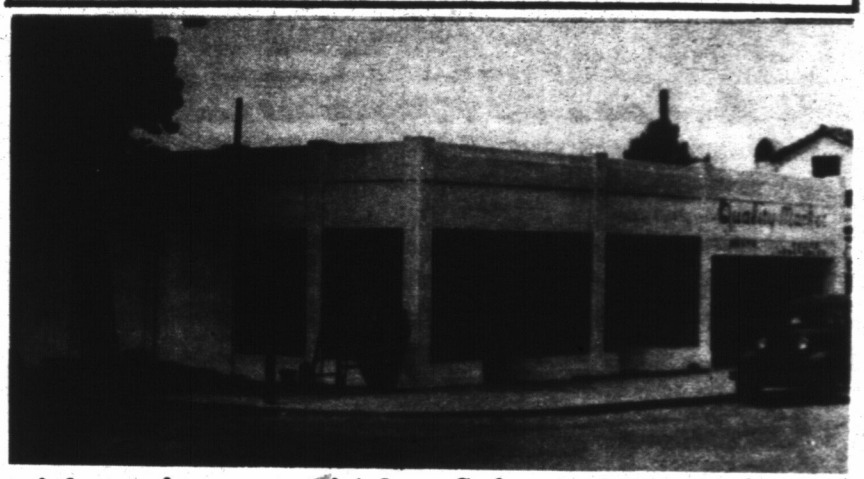
CHANGING SCENES



A few weeks ago, we printed a picture of the old drug store at the corner of Ocean avenue and San Carlos street as a passing landmark. Above is its successor, which will house three modern stores.

Major and Mrs. W. E. Kneass and Bill Kneass left Tuesday to establish residence in Colorado.

Miss Willette Allen of San Mateo has been staying with Florence Brown for a week.

Girl Scouts Happy

The Monterey Peninsula Girl Scout Camp, which is in progress up the Carmel Valley at the ranch of Mrs. Will Hatton, is a great success, according to all reports. The girls are all most happy and contented. Thirty-three were there for the first half. Twenty-one of these stayed on for the second half, and were joined by more from San Diego, Berkeley, San Mateo, Hollister and Watsonville.

The girls are engaged in a most interesting project now, which is the making of books, and Miss Mary Ackroyd says that they are doing very fine work.

A great specialty is made of nature lore. The girls have gone fishing and the older ones have had an overnight hike, and another night they all made a trail and built a campfire circle.

The girls are also making camp jewelry out of seeds and other things found there, and are collecting aquariums, have made butterfly nets, and given excellent theatricals.

The Scouts find the food marvelous, and each one drinks a quart and a half of milk a day. Most of the food comes from the surrounding ranches, so it is all fresh.

Mrs. F. R. Arkell and daughter of Vancouver and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Farrell and daughter also of Vancouver are staying at La Playa for some time.

VETERAN ACTRESS

Miss Daisy Belmore, who joined the St. James Repertory company last week, will play the role of Susanna in their first play, "Russet Mantle." Miss Belmore has played in India, Africa, Australia, Tasmania, and numerous other countries, so it made us feel very proud when she said that she was "simply wild about Carmel," and wanted to take a cottage here for the rest of her life.

SUMMER PLAYS ASSURED

Carmel is to be congratulated upon being the town chosen by the St. James Repertory company for their season of summer stock. The company is composed of professional actors, so finished productions are assured. The plays will be given in the Golden Bough Green Room.

A new play will be produced each week, starting with "Russet Mantle" by Lynn Riggs, and followed by "Dangerous Corner" by J. B. Priestly, also "Kind Lady," "Hay Fever," "Young Woodley," "Beyond the Horizon," "Master Builder," "Inheritors," and a new manuscript.

The group is under the direction of Charles McCarthy with the following actors and actresses as members, Robert Galbraith, George T. Bolton, Faye Emerson, Daisy Belmore, Peter Lundberg, Ellen Leslie, and Kendall Power.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee E. Gottfried are back in their own home on 13th and Dolores after two years. The John Douglas Shorts who had the house have moved to their home in Woodside for the summer.

SEE SPANISH FILM

"Spain in Flames," a film living up to its name in every respect, was shown Saturday night at the Theodore Criley home in the Highlands, after an earlier showing the same evening in Monterey. The first half of the film, with John Dos Passos as commentator was taken by Spanish cameramen, and the second half by Soviet photographers, having Ernest Hemingway as commentator. This film is being shown in the interest of the Abraham Lincoln Battalion, a group of Americans with the Loyalist forces, who are in need of specialized supplies. Among those in the small but interested audience were: Mr. and Mrs. John O'Shea, Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Wurzmann, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hedger, Barbara O'Neill, Betty Reynolds, Henry Dickinson, Herbert Heron, Joe Schoeninger, Paul Ruthling, Dr. R. A. Kocher, Mrs. H. van Swearinger and Doctor Addis.

A Fair Land In The Carmel Valley

There is now being opened for sale in substantial premises a portion of the Carmel Valley, that is considered by many who know the Valley, to be the most beautiful as well as the best located land in the Valley.

This land is in the heart of the Valley, warm in its sunshine, heavily covered by magnificent oak trees, with deep, rich soil. The views are magnificent. The property must be entered only from the Los Laurelles highway (the road that connects the Valley road with the Monterey-Salinas highway.) It is ideal for the homes of people who want spacious premises in a healthful, peaceful, rural environment that is protected by restrictions, served by "city water" and electricity and good roads.

La Rancheria del Carmelo is 20 minutes (12 miles) from the heart of Carmel.

The opening prices are low.

If interested in the spaciousness, beauty and warmth of Carmel Valley property, ask to be shown—

A large suite in the Seven Arts building is being remodeled and refurnished for Terry Ogden, noted camera portraitist. Mr. Ogden, who formerly had a studio at the Royal Hawaiian Hotel, plans to open here around the middle of July. Mr. Ogden and his aunt, Mrs. A. L. Sowter, have taken the Jenkins house at the Country Club, but until it is ready for occupancy are at the beach cottage there.

Mrs. James Vernon Short and her son, Irving, came down from Berkeley last week and opened their studio on Carmelo for a two weeks' vacation. They had as their guests last week Ned Stroud, Carlos Brown and John Grosch. This week Mrs. Short was joined by her husband, Jamie, son, Harvey, and Miss Virginia Saam.

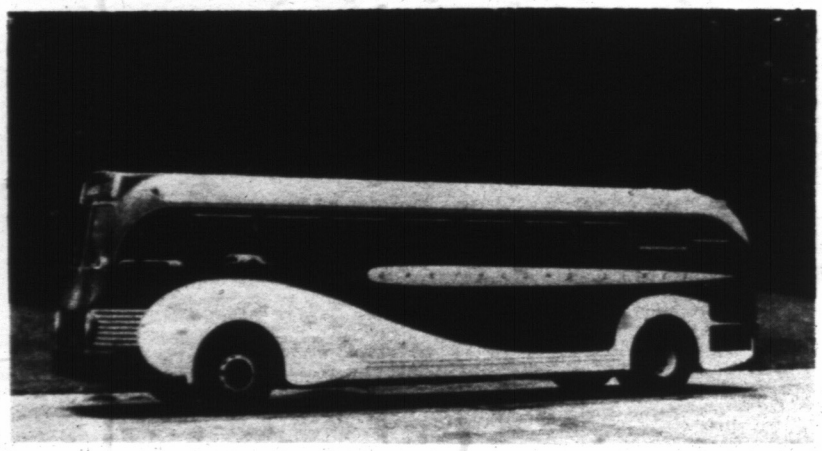
Phil Nesbitt has just (happily) completed a "Screen of Provincial French dog design" for Molly Hudson. The lass states that Phil was fortuitously delighted with the object.



A new through service will be inaugurated over the San Simeon Highway on July 8.

IN FESTIVAL

Conducts Rehearsals

Bernard Callery, an honor graduate of San Jose State Teacher's College in the Department of Music, came to Carmel in April of 1936 as assistant supervisor on the Federal Music Project under Dene Denny, district supervisor. He succeeded her as supervisor on her resignation this June. Mr. Callery was made assistant director of the Bach Festival last year and conducted the E major violin concerto when Sacha Jacobinoff, last year's director, played as soloist.

Mr. Callery has been the assistant director this season, preparing the rehearsals for Mr. Penha, the conductor for the 1937 Bach Festival. The rehearsals are becoming more and more intensive, and show that it will be an even greater project than the preceding years.

Mr. Callery has studied conducting for the last year under Gastone Usigli, the eminent Italian conductor, who considers that he has promising talent. For six months now he has unassumingly carried on the rehearsals of the Festival chorus and orchestra, performing the duties of what Michel Penha calls the "drill master."

LIBRARY NOTES

The Book Exhibit of the Carmel Library this week is on the idealistic or patriotic theme. They are new books that have come out within the last year, and ones which people might like to read over the Fourth of July. There is a history of the Navy, several books on war, the histories of many of our famous men, the Autobiography of Lincoln Steffens, and many others that will be of great interest during this holiday.

MUSIC PROJECT ENDS

The Carmel Federal Music Project, which was started March 3rd of last year, has been ordered closed as of June 30. Bernard Callery, who has been superintendent since June 11, when Dene Denny's resignation took effect, was notified of the closing by the state director, Harle Jervis, last week. Of the 15 workers on the project, six of them have been placed in recreational projects and the others are trying to get into private channels of their profession. Throughout the state the music projects are being closed down because of lack of funds.
